Gov. Herter Commencement Speaker

Governor Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts will be the commencement speaker Sunday, June 10. Long a leader in public affairs, the Bay State's chief executive has been mentioned prominently as a possible candidate for the vice-presidency on the Republican ticket.

A 1915 graduate of Harvard University, he has been awarded honorary degrees by 12 colleges. The latter include Amherst, Bowdoin, Tufts, and Williams.

Soon after his graduation from Harvard Governor Herter went to Europe as a diplomat, and at the age of 21 he was acting minister to Belgium.

Before that he had been secretary to the American Peace Commission in Paris and executive secretary for the European Relief Council. Later he was personal assistant to Herbert Hoover when the latter was Secretary of Commerce.

A member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives for 12 years, he was speaker from 1939 to 1943. He became known as the father of that state's Unemployment Compensation Law, enacted in 1935 as the second of its kind in the United States.

Governor Herter served in Congress from 1943 to 1952, and in 1948 Collier's Magazine gave him its annual award as the "Outstanding Congressman in the United States" in recognition of his work in behalf of the Marshall Plan. He became the Bay State's chief executive in 1952.

The baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning, June 10, will be delivered by Dr. Arthur W. Hewitt, pastor of the Northfield Methodist Church. In demand as a speaker at religious meetings throughout the country, Dr. Hewitt has earned a national reputation in his field.

Norwich Half Million Payroll Goes to 171 Employees

The impact of a college on the economy of a small town was forcefully demonstrated in an address at a meeting of the Northfield Rotary Club given by President Harmon last month. He disclosed that Norwich provided Northfield, a town of 3500 people, with a payroll of half a million dollars during 1955.

The exact figure was $501,220, the speaker said, and this money went to 171 people. In addition, eight officers and seven enlisted men, stationed at Norwich by the Army, received pay and allowances that added nearly $100,000 to the half million in salaries and wages dispensed by Norwich.

Property taxes levied against Norwich on dwelling houses it rents to professors and other employees total $7696 annually, President Harmon stated.

In addition, the university spends $16,500 for electric power it purchases from the village of Northfield. It also picks up a $2400 water bill.

Plans to expand the Norwich student body from its current 700 to a total of 800 next fall will further enhance the financial benefits Northfield receives from the University. Additions to the faculty and in the administrative and labor force at Norwich will be required, General Harmon noted.

A $350,000 dormitory, second to be added to the Norwich plant in four years, will be ready for occupancy next fall. Another construction project now under way is conversion of White Hall into a chapel at a cost of $150,000.

An enlarged hockey arena, equipped with machinery to provide artificial ice, and an indoor swimming pool are other projects soon to be started, the Rotarians were told.

AN EDITORIAL . . .

From the St. Johnsbury Caledonian

Vermonters who have not taken stock of late of the higher educational institutions within the state will be happily surprised at the bounding strides which a growing, developing Norwich University is taking. Currently it has a student body of 700 which will be expanded to 800 next fall. A $350,000 dormitory, the second to be built on the Northfield campus in four years, will be ready for occupancy next fall. The present White Hall is being remodelled into a chapel whose bell tower will dominate the campus. Plans are afoot for an enlarged hockey arena, equipped with machinery for artificial ice, and for an indoor swimming pool. Vermonters may well boast of this institution which holds by Vermont statute the official designation as the military college of the State of Vermont.

1916's 40-Year Reunion Looms As Biggest Ever

Hearty greetings, again, men of '16! We are now nearing the month of May. Another glance at the calendar brings our 40th anniversary reunion activities to within seven rapidly passing weeks. So, it is time to contact the class committee for those who have not responded. Chairman Ted will feel mighty unhappy if the cocktail and banquet area assigned is too limited for our requirements.

For some time Milt Hanson has not been active in class affairs. So, the efforts of Fricker Frazee finally obtained the latest address. Mrs. Hanson, his wife, reported that Milt passed away 24 October 1953. A letter is being mailed to Mrs. Hanson.

Among class letters recently received are two of particular interest.

Mike Merkel has written, "I have been under the weather for some time, so I don't get around too much. When you have a heart condition, you take daily life easy, much of the time. My physician advises that it will be wise for me to remain at home and not attempt to take such a long trip, so, much to my sorrow, I cannot join my classmates for the program. I had hoped to be able to be with you. Thanks for your letters. Remember me to all the boys and have a good time. I'll write to you again before the reunion." Thanks for such an informative letter, Mike. Be sure to send another one before we assemble.

Jack O'Neill's letter finally arrived and it brought very pleasing news. "It has been really heartwarming to receive correspondence from so many of my 1916 classmates about our 40th Reunion June 7, 8, 9, and 10, back on the Hill. So, a reservation is being made for Anne and me to fly to Detroit, pick up a car at the factory and proceed over the road to Northfield on the Dog. It is a possibility that this trip from Honolulu will win the Shinquin Long Distance Trophy for the 1916 class. I hope so. I feel so grateful to the great University which offered me an opportunity for an education and provided me with the fellowship of such men. I have sent a generous check, air mail, for the Living Endowment Fund. I would like nothing better than to spend time writing a letter to every classmate urging him and his wife to be there."

Vol. 47, No. 11 May, 1956

That is a grand letter, Jack. Hal Slack was contacted, and he immediately made a reservation at the Brown Derby Motel, in 'Pelier, where he and Anne will be greeted by Steve and Mrs. Stevens.

Mail continues to go out to classmates from your committee members. Recently another postal card was received from "Grump," along with the "All roads lead to the 40th class reunion 1916-1956, No Detours" from "Mose." Keep up the good work, men!

Last month, another phone call came in from "Grump" and from Fred Davis in Harrisburg, Pa. Fred and Eva will open class headquarters at the 'Pelier Tavern, Thursday, 7 June for the weekend. Inquire at the desk for room location. Hal and Grace will also be around as well as others.

At this writing, confirmed reservations have been received, by the committee, from Ted and Bea, Fred and Eva, Artie and Mrs. Dearing, Fricker and Lady Frazee, General and Mrs. Harmon, Grump and Margaret, Mose and Edith, Jack and Anne, Ryde and Evelyn Ryder, Hal and Grace, Steve and Mrs. Stevens and your secretary. Of course, this attendance will be increased soon. If Jack and Anne O'Neill can come all the way from Honolulu, those of us within the U. S. A. borders should be able to be present, unless a physical disability forbids. So, let's make an all-out effort to go back to see the New Norwich.

Remember, it is Living Endowment giving time again. Send something, even though the amount may be small. It will all count in the needed percentage of alumni participation. Will you please send yours now?

For the committee,

Solicitors Are Seeking Living Endowment Support

Over 400 alumni solicitors, each carrying a list of three to five prospects residing in his community, are contacting nearly 2000 Norwich men to ask them to support Living Endowment.

During the past six years Norwich graduates, although they number only 2000, have sent to their college an impressive total of $201,239. In one of these years the average gift sent by contributors reached $61 to place Norwich seventh highest among the nation's colleges.

This spring's personal solicitation campaign is the first ever attempted by Norwich on a wide scale. Heretofore, direct mail appeals, issued by the college and by class secretaries, have formed the principal implementation.

The letter-writing approach again has been used this year, and it already has brought nearly $19,000 from over 500 contributors. A doubling of both these figures is the goal of the current personal solicitation campaign.

Besides the $19,000 sent to Living Endowment thus far, a total of $12,000 also has been contributed this year by Norwich alumni to funds that are permitting conversion of White Hall into a chapel at a cost of $150,000.

Beginning this year, Living Endowment contributions will be devoted to still another construction project, a $200,000 hockey arena of regulation size equipped with artificial ice. Work will be started this spring.

Tompkins Hall, Norwich's new mechanical engineering building, was made possible by gifts alumni sent to the college during the past five years.

An Open Letter . . .

TO FORMER NORWICH HOCKEY PLAYERS

The need for an artificial ice rink at Norwich has been firmly established. The Norwich alumni believe that a new rink will be a tremendous addition to the athletic facilities and to the recreational potential of the University. Norwich men must now squarely face the problem of paying for the new rink.

General Harmon has substantial pledges toward the new rink, but Norwich still needs over $100,000 for the Hockey Rink Fund. General Harmon is relying upon the rank and file of the Norwich alumni to push the hockey rink campaign over the top. Many alumni have already given to Living Endowment, but there are many more who could and should give.

I would like to make a particular appeal to the former hockey players and to the friends of hockey at Norwich. You have a greater interest and responsibility in this undertaking than the majority of the Norwich alumni. You can help by contributing to the best of your ability. You can help even more by contacting other alumni and friends of hockey in your area. I sincerely hope that you take an active part in helping us meet this new challenge.

BOB PRIESTLEY
Coach of Hockey

THE SAP AIN'T SO SWEET THIS YEAR OR PUT SOMETHING IN THE POT, BOY.

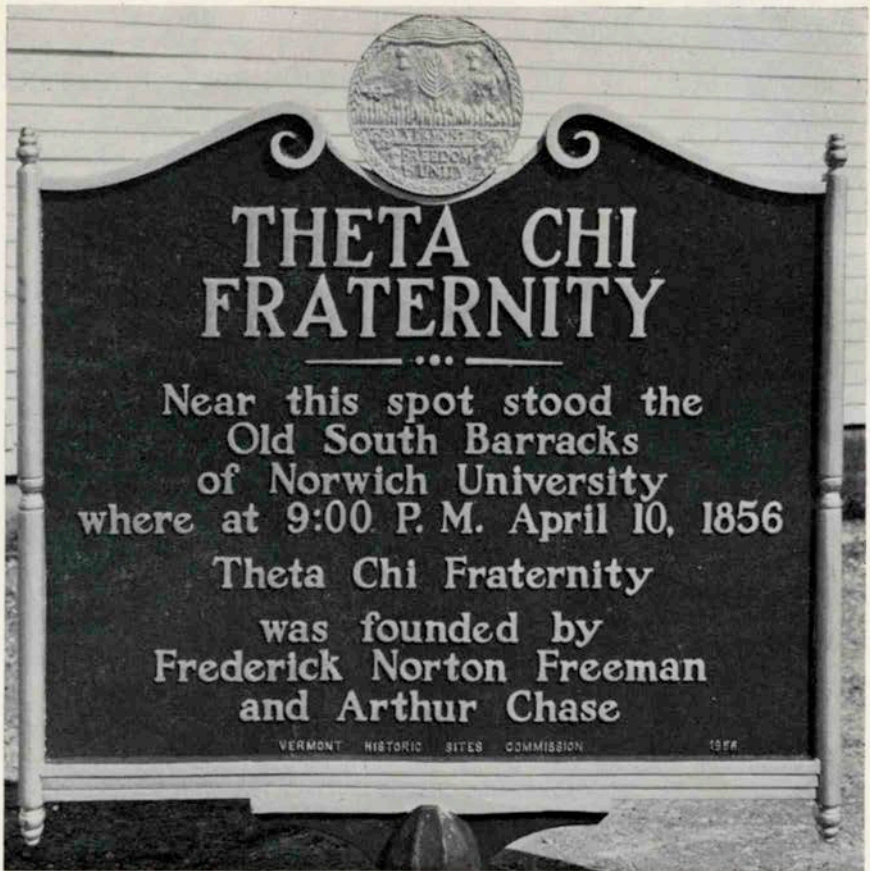

It has been a snowy, cold spring, but we hung the buckets for the Living Endowment Hockey Rink Campaign anyhow. There has been a trickle in the buckets, but there ain't been enough to start the sap house running.

If we are going to build the hockey rink, it is going to require a little more sugar. Even us "Vermont Yankees" can't get anything out of water but steam. The warm weather should start the stuff flowing so help the Rink Campaign and get your exercise at the same time by writing out checks.

The Last Sgt.

WORTH REPEATING . . .

"It is, of course, largely by the extent of the support accorded to a college by its own graduates that the world judges of the right of that college to seek cooperation of others in planning for the future. An institution that cannot rally to its financial assistance the men who have taken its degrees and whose diploma is their passport into the world is in a poor position to ask assistance from any others. It is not merely what the alumni give; it is the fact that they do give that is of supreme importance."—Charles W. Eliot, long-time president of Harvard.

Theta Chi, 100 Years Old, Dedicates Historic Marker

Theta Chi, a national fraternity founded at Norwich 100 years ago, has dedicated a bronze marker to commemorate the event.

National officers of the organization, who assembled here for the spring meeting of the Grand Chapter, made a 50-mile trip to the town of Norwich, Vt., for the plaque ceremony on Apr. 7. The University was located there when Theta Chi was founded in 1856.

The marker, erected by the Vermont Historic Sites Commission, notes that "near this spot stood the Old South Barracks of Norwich University where at 9:00 P. M. April 10, 1856, Theta Chi Fraternity was founded by Frederick Norton Freeman and Arthur Chase."

In further observance of Theta Chi's 100th anniversary, the 1956 national convention of the fraternity will be held in Northfield next September. In attendance will be representatives of 117 chapters located at colleges across the nation.

The dedication ceremony was preceded by a dinner held in honor of Theta Chi by the University and attended by the Norwich president, General Harmon. Also on hand was Theta Chi's national president, Earl Rhodes of Loudonville, N. Y., together with Grand Chapter officers from many sections of the country.

The day's schedule also included inspection of a new fraternity house Norwich's Alpha Chapter has erected for its members.

Speakers at the dedication ceremony included General Harmon and President Rhodes. Others were Dr. Arthur W. Peach, director of the Vermont Historical Society, Vrest Orton of the Vermont Historic Sites Commission, and Allen Britton, who spoke in behalf of the town of Norwich. Dean Perley D. Baker introduced the speakers.

Sigma Nu at Norwich Wins National Honor

A Norwich fraternity chapter has won national distinction for high scholarship.

Zeta Epsilon Chapter of Sigma Nu has been notified that the academic average of its members during the past college year topped that of the 121 other units in the nationwide organization.

As winner of first place, the Norwich fraternity will receive the Gallaher Cup awarded each year to the Sigma Nu chapter highest in scholarship.

Runnerup to Norwich's Zeta Epsilon was Psi Chapter at the University of North Carolina, followed by Epsilon Delta at the University of Wyoming and Zeta Alpha at College of Puget Sound. These three also will receive awards.

A scoring system used by the national organization to determine chapter rank in scholarship gave Norwich an index of 21, nearly double that of second-place North Carolina's 13. Wyoming's figure was 11, and Puget Sound had 10.

Last fall the Norwich Sigma Nu men won the White Cup awarded annually to the fraternity highest in scholarship.

Their chapter led the six Greek letter societies located at Norwich.

Drill Squad Wins Plaudits For Massachusetts Appearance

✶ The following letter was sent to the Norwich Commandant by the authorities of Tenney High School in Methuen, Mass.:

"Please accept our sincere thanks for allowing the Drill Squad of Norwich University to participate in our annual Military Ball at Tenney High School.

"Their performance was outstanding, and it attracted much favorable comment from the spectators. It added immeasurably to the enjoyment of the evening and was indeed an inspiring example to our Cadet Corps.

"A word of praise is also due the quality of your students. Their behavior was exemplary and reflected great credit upon your institution."

Books on Mountaineering Are Gift of Joel Fisher

The mountaineering section of the Norwich Library has been augmented by some important titles which have now become classics in mountaineering literature.

Librarian Victor H. Johnson has announced that Joel E. Fisher of New York City, a descendant of the Norwich founder, Captain Alden Partridge, has presented 80 titles necessary for building a sound core collection on mountaineering.

These include such titles as Edward Whymper's "Travels Amongst the Great Andes of the Equator," John Tyndall's "Mountaineering in 1861," and Douglas Freshfield's "Exploration of the Caucasus."

"The acquisition by the Norwich Library of such titles through the generosity of Mr. Fisher thus gives impetus toward building an authoritative collection of material in a field which is a 'natural' to Norwich," Librarian Johnson stated.

Band and Drill Platoon March in Lexington Parade

Nearly 100 Norwich cadets marched in the annual Patriot's Day parade in Lexington, Mass., Apr. 19. The Norwich representation included the cadets' 56-piece band, a regimental drill platoon of 30 picked men, and a four-man color guard.

For the Norwich band, it was its ninth annual appearance in the Lexington spectacle, held each year to commemorate the anniversary of the opening of the Revolutionary War. The cadet musicians first were invited to parade in Lexington in 1948.

The Norwich band, which is commanded by Cadet Capt. Frazier P. Colon of Athol, Mass., was picked to head the Colonial Division of the Patriot's Day parade. Leading the band as drum major was Cadet M. Sgt. Calvin A. Lowell of East Boothbay Harbor, Me. Cadet Capt. Gilbert L. Theroux of McIndoe Falls commanded the drill platoon. Prof. Paul C. Pelton, head of the Norwich Music Department, accompanied the band to Lexington.

While in Massachusetts, the Norwich musicians gave a concert at Lynnfield Center Apr. 18. Besides the band, the Norwich glee club and drill team took part in the concert program.

George Lovell, '99, Visits Old Grads in Florida

127 Cross Street
Keene, N. H.

To the Editor:

Recently I took a couple of weeks off and flew to Florida. I had several objectives, to see a bit of Florida, to see some relatives and some old friends.

Most of my time was spent in St. Petersburg with my nephew and in Lakeland with another nephew. At my first opportunity I tried to find some old Norwich friends. My first call was at the home of Charles Walker, '97, in North St. Petersburg. I was told by the present occupants of the place that Mr. Walker had died several years ago. He was a veteran of the Spanish War, having seen service in Cuba in the Signal Corps.

I went to Clearwater and enjoyed a short but very pleasant call on Ray Dowe, '95, and his wife in their comfortable home there. He seems to be enjoying life in that salubrious climate.

Harold Richmond, '00, has a very attractive home in Maitland. Small, but beautiful Lake St. Catherine is practically in his front yard, while his back yard is all orange grove. I deeply regretted that my call on him and his good wife, as well as the one on Ray Dowe, was all too brief.

Later I took off from Tampa to Havana, a mere two-hour flight, and had a charming three-day visit there. As soon as I got settled at the Presidante Hotel I called up Emilio Guerra, '03, in Santiago de Cuba, some 640 miles away at the other end of the island. He had already written me in St. Pete that he could not come to Havana as he was confined to his home with a cold. My time was too limited to make that trip, so our call was entirely by phone. But it was the same old voice from the same old "Cuba."

I still find it hard to believe that I left the St. Pete airport at 12:15 a. m. and landed at the Keene airport at 9:50 the same forenoon. When I was a Kaydet in the Gay Nineties, I took a trip by train from Northfield to Portland, Maine; and I hereby declare that that trip was further (seemingly), harder, and longer in time than was this Florida trip. Times do change.

PRESS PIECES TELL STORIES

Special to the Record from Headquarters, Far East

Staff officers of the Far East Army Forces and the 8th Army and the 56th Army Band joined to congratulate their commander, Gen. I. D. White, on his 55th birthday. The surprise ceremony took place in front of the General's home in Camp Zama.

The band began the program with a rendition of "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning." When General White, accompanied by his wife, appeared at the doorway, the band broke into "Happy Birthday to You" and members of the staff crowded forward to shake the General's hand and extend their congratulations.

The general, a Norwich University 1922 graduate, was surprised and deeply appreciative of the courtesy extended him by the group.

Herbert Rea, '22, Named ICA Deputy Director in Cambodia

Special to the Record from Washington, D. C.

Herbert Eugene Rea has been appointed deputy director of the United States Operations Missions to Cambodia, the International Cooperation Administration announced last week.

Mr. Rea, 55, worked in the Far East for the Standard Vacuum Oil Company for 27 years, from 1922-42 and 1945-52. From 1942-45 he was loaned to Socony-Vacuum Oil Company and served as manager of that company's operations in French West Africa.

Graduating from Norwich University in 1922, Mr. Rea joined Standard-Vacuum almost immediately as a foreign marketing assistant and worked his way up to the post of general sales manager of the company's Malaya-Thailand Division in Singapore.

In 1952 he retired, in line with Standard-Vacuum's established policy of retiring overseas personnel after 30 years of service. For two years he was director of public relations for Norwich University.

Mr. Rea was born in Wakefield, Mass., but he is now a resident of Brookfield, Vt. In 1929 he married Miss Rosamond Ayers of Boston. They have four sons, 24, 22, 15, and 10. The two youngest will accompany the Reas to Cambodia.

Before his departure for the Orient in early April, Mr. Rea sent a letter to his 1922 classmates. Excerpts follow:

Your Secretary, who is about to go to Cambodia as Deputy Director of the United States Operations Mission (ICA) for a two year term, salutes you! Hail and farewell! My wife and two younger sons, Pete and Andy, are going out with me. My other two sons, Dave who has just married, and John will stay in the States. Dave enters Norwich and John enters UVM this fall. Maybe you can guess why I'm going to work again!

I suggest to you that Dolly Drown become your new secretary, and unless you object, will presume Dolly is elected. Of course, if one of you wants the job, I'm sure Dolly would step down. I'm sure he can and will do a good job, and that he'll have the full help and support of John Mazuzan, that true friend and saviour of all class secretaries.

Just at this moment I'm in Washington being "indoctrinated," and have a thousand things to do before we leave, so you'll have to forgive the brevity. I do want to thank you all for bearing with me these four years since our 30th Reunion, and remind you that our 35th comes next year. Better plan to be in Northfield while you still don't need a wheel-chair. It is still as hilly on the Hill, but there is much more to see.

Leston Faneuf, '26, General Manager of Bell Aircraft

The March issue of Fortune carried an article entitled "Barrier-Breaking Bell Aircraft." It described the work of Bell Aircraft Corporation of Buffalo, N. Y., of which Leston Faneuf, '26, is vice-president and general manager.

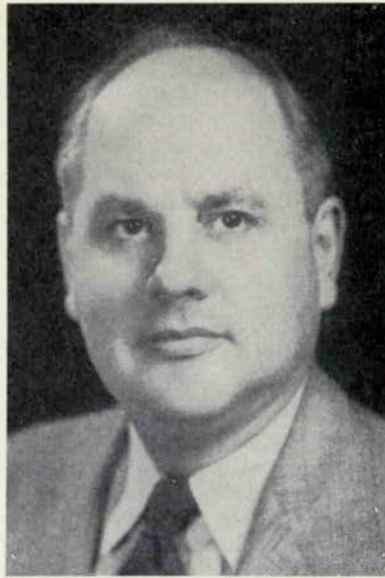

"It takes a lot of talent to handle the science-fiction projects the Pentagon has given Bell Aircraft, and it also takes talent to make money at them," Fortune stated. "Bell is making money—yet it doesn't have a plane in production."

Excerpts pertaining to Mr. Faneuf follow:

"Though the impress of Larry Bell's personality is visible in most areas of his company, his precise job has become more difficult to define in recent years. In 1954 he turned his title of general manager over to Vice President Leston Faneuf (pronounced Fay'nuff) and announced in the next annual report that Faneuf's responsibilities would include day-to-day operation of the company and its subsidiaries. Bell himself would continue as president, giving 'special emphasis to planning for the future.' He would also 'encourage and assist technical personnel in product development.' As he explained this division of labor recently, it meant that 'Faneuf does all the work and I don't do a damn thing.'

"This statement was only half serious; nevertheless, it is abundantly clear that Faneuf is firmly in charge of operations now, has a major voice in policy as well, and is an odds-on favorite to succeed to the president's chair whenever Larry Bell, who is 61, decides to retire. His contract suggests that this will be on December 31, 1958, but the date might be pushed forward or backward depending on his heart (he had a mild coronary in 1953), on his ulcers (they have been quiescent lately), and on the way he feels about things generally (which is always unpredictable).

Les Faneuf, who is 51, has a rather startling background for a top aircraft executive—or for anything else. Before he came to Bell in 1943, he had been commandant of a military academy; instructor in French at an exclusive boys' school; editor of a news-magazine, patterned vaguely after Time; political editor of the Buffalo Times; radio news commentator in Buffalo; campaign manager for Thomas L. Holling, who ran successfully for mayor of Buffalo on a nonpartisan platform in 1937; the mayor's secretary; public-relations director for the Marine Midland Corp; Erie County tire-rationing administrator; first chairman of the New York State Apprenticeship Council; assistant director of OPA for the New York region (on leave from Marine Midland); and president of the Buffalo Board of Education. Overlapping several of these assignments was a hitch as quiz master on a local radio show similar to Information Please. 'I was the Clifton Fadiman of Buffalo,' Faneuf recalls. He was just 38 when he went to work as Larry Bell's special assistant.

"As these data suggest, Les Faneuf is a man of considerable experience, many facets, and vast energy. He has closely supervised the budget and cost controls he installed when he was assistant general manager; these entail monthly comparisons of budgets and performance figures even for the smallest departments. Yet he appears to share with Larry Bell a preference for an informal, highly personal organization, especially at the top levels. The company dutifully keeps its organization charts and job descriptions up to date, but does not feel very closely bound by them."

Leigh Cramer, '28, Bank
Vice-President in Panama

From the monthly magazine of the First National City Bank of New York

Leigh R. Cramer, resident vice-president, in charge of Isthmian Branches in Panama, attended St. Johnsbury Academy and Norwich University. He came to the bank in 1928 as a trainee in the Far Eastern District. In 1930 he was transferred to Harbin, Manchuria; then served in various official capacities at Dairen and Hong Kong. In 1941 Mr. Cramer returned to the head office and the following year was assigned to Balboa, then Cristobal, and Panama in 1946.

"The enclosed photograph," Mr. Cramer noted in a letter to the Record, "was taken on a fishing trip in Panama Bay near the Colombian border. It shows that banking abroad is not all paper work. The 314-lb. black marlin slightly outweighs the writer. It took one hour, 6½ minutes, on a 12-0 reel, 39-thread line—far from a record, but hard work for an old man. Rear Admiral Milton E. Miles, USN, Commandant, Fifteenth Naval District, was the host on the trip with U. S. Ambassador Julian F. Harrington as co-pilot. Several large sailfish running around 100 lbs. were also boated."

Charles Gray, '30, General Manager in Colombia

*From the Remington Rand
World, a monthly publication*

The first Colombian assembled typewriter came off the line of the new Remington Rand plant in Bogota, Colombia, recently.

The new factory, first typewriter plant in the country's history, is now assembling Remington Standard machines at the rate of 200 a month and working toward a potential output of four to five hundred, according to Charles D. Gray, recently appointed general manager of Remington Rand Colombiana.

The plant was officially inaugurated last September at a gala opening attended by 500 Colombian government and business officials including Alberto Ruiz Novoa, Comptroller General of the Republic, and Philip Bonsal, U. S. Ambassador. General Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, President of the Republic, sent a salutary telegram.

The fact that large parts inventories can be carried at the new plant will further enhance the highly efficient service operation throughout the country, Mr. Gray pointed out. Production of portable typewriters and adding machines is planned for the future.

The Colombian press gave wide coverage to the opening, and it was featured on a television news broadcast.

In the few months of the plant's existence, Mr. Gray said, its employees have done "a splendid job." They are all Colombians, and the majority are girls who had no previous experience in mechanical assembly work. A brief, intensive training period was all they needed to develop "a really extraordinary ability," he said.

Robert Hallam, '44, Heads
Engineering Research Company

From the Springfield, Mass., News

R. M. Hallam Co. of 353 Dwight Street, an engineering and consulting service firm organized late in 1954 by Robert M. Hallam, has been incorporated with Hallam as president and treasurer. It was, incidentally, the first company to be incorporated in Massachusetts in 1956.

About half of the work being done by the company is commercial, the other half defense work.

Mr. Hallam said the company serves primarily as engineers and consultants to the aircraft industry, aircraft electronics, machine tool and heavy equipment manufacturers (such as General Electric, Westinghouse, United Aircraft, Worthington Pump, Bendix).

Much of the R. M. Hallam work is pure research and development and exploratory analysis. Most of this is done as prime contracts from government or military agencies.

Mr. Hallam said the number of employees is about 80, but there is a need for engineers, designers and draftsmen. He said the company probably will reach the point in 1956 where larger quarters are needed.

R. M. Hallam is "very deeply involved" in the industrial revolution known as automation—the use of automatic equipment for greater production. Mr. Hallam said the firm's basic experience in the designing of special tools and machinery has facilitated the company's participation in the automatic equipment field.

Mr. Hallam, who attended Norwich

University and the University of Illinois, was a captain in the Tank Corps during World War II.

EXCERPTS FROM THEIR LETTERS

Chinese Interpreter

From Col. S. Victor Constant, Ret.
370 First Avenue
New York 10, N. Y.

Herewith is a small check in memory of my son, Vic, '43.

I also am sending you a picture from Life Magazine taken during the evacuation of the Ta Chen Islands. You will recognize Maj. Gen. John Macdonald, '20, with the pipe. My son, Tom, who attended Norwich with the 1946 class before he went to West Point, was General Macdonald's aide at that time and is shown interpreting the Chinese conversation for the General. Tom was born in China when I was a language student there, and he speaks very superior Chinese. He now is Secretary of the General Staff, Army Section, MAAG Taiwan (Formosa), APO 63, San Francisco, Calif.

I have been interested to watch the steady growth of Norwich. You should all be very proud of your accomplishments.

Gil and Mamie

From Donald M. Bugbee, '31
80 Caroline St.
Burlington, Vt.

I spotted the enclosed picture of Mamie Eisenhower in Sunday's Boston Herald. As I looked at the picture another face looked very familiar. It is none other than that of my ex-room-mate, Gil Haddrell, '31, now general manager of Waldor Greenhouses of Salem, Mass.

I remember that he always did keep good company, but I didn't realize that he associated with our First Lady.

Quick Visit Pleases

From Col. Reginald M. Cram, '36
Office of the Air Deputy, SHAPE
APO 55, New York, N. Y.

In a recent very quick visit to Norwich University I was most favorably impressed with all the improvements. All of you have done a grand job, and I'm sure I would speak for all the alumni in expressing particular gratitude to General Harmon for his outstanding administration.

The enclosed contribution is to be used as N. U. sees fit.

Rough Winter

From Capt. Charles R. deZafra, '47
P. O. Box 380
Juneau, Alaska

This letter will reflect a change in the strength of this organization, by the addition of a son, Michael Raymond, born 3 January here in Juneau. We have read the births and marriages section for the past several years and have been able to follow the progress of many friends who, for a while, looked as though they'd all pass us by. Now, however, I think we can hold our own with most of the rest. So we now have two sons, Charles R., Jr., and Mike.

That is about all the real news from this part of the world; other things have a habit of "business as usual." It's been a rough winter this year, with a long spell of constant winds in the 70 to 100 mph category which cost us the roof of our residence the day before Thanksgiving and has filled the yard with all the loose articles from miles around. I'm thinking of holding a spring rummage sale to get things cleared away again.

It looks as though we will be here for at least another year, and possibly more, unless something unexpected happens to change the minds of the people in CMB. That means that the invitation to visit will be extended that much longer, and we're hoping that someone will take advantage of it before too long. There are no Norwich people in this area that I know of, and we would like to see some of our old friends. For anyone located on the West Coast, Juneau is only a few short hours from Seattle by plane, and the ride by dog team from the airport really isn't too bad.

My best regards to all the faculty and to General Harmon for a fine job of building Norwich into a first-rate contender among military schools. I am looking forward with anticipation to the first chance I have to re-visit Norwich and Northfield.

Solution Found

Anonymity requested

I believe I have found the solution to becoming a regular contributor to the Living Endowment Fund. As a member of the Vermont National Guard I am paid every three months. Please find enclosed my check for $25.

2d Bn., 14th Armd. Cav. Regt.
APO 800, New York, N. Y.

Just a note to let you know how much I enjoyed and appreciated my visit with you and others at Norwich last month. It is almost unbelievable when I see all that General Harmon and Living Endowment have accomplished.

I will within the next few weeks assume command of F Co. of the 2nd Bn. We are on the border mission here, and this is certainly an outstanding unit. Two Norwich men are here—Lt. Dick Costin, '52, and Lt. Henri Erkelens, '55.

My sincere thanks go to Col. Prince, Lt. Col. Elder, and Lt. Col. Garrison for the opportunity they gave me to speak to the DMS students, a very fine group.

Six from Carson Long

From Gilbert M. Gigliotti, '52
Carson Long Institute
New Bloomfield, Pa.

I am sending my contribution to Living Endowment, and it is my sincere hope that next time it will be larger.

Mrs. Gigliotti and I were very pleased to have Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harper visit with us recently. The Colonel visited Carson Long Institute in the hope of getting some applicants for Norwich for the fall of 1956. Six boys entered Norwich from Carson Long last September.

I am pleased to claim Norwich as my Alma Mater, and I know that all of the alumni are grateful to our president, General Harmon, for the wonderful and praiseworthy job he is doing for "our" Norwich.

The Record has been coming in each month and is enjoyed thoroughly by both my wife and myself.

We won't be able to make it up for Commencement, but we'll see you at Homecoming next fall for sure.

Quite the Base

From Lt. James R. Rice, '55
113-A Catherine Ave.
Ellinor Village
Pensacola, Fla.

I am writing this letter to change my address and give a little account of myself.

After graduating in June, I took a position with General Electric in the Outdoor Lighting Div. in Lynn, Mass. My stay there was short as I entered the Marine Corps in September.

Quantico, Va., was my first station. There I underwent 12 weeks of that "good old" Marine training. While in Virginia, I ran into many of my '55 classmates—Bill Potter, Al Fohl, Babe LaRosa, Bert Berube, Billie Neil, Bob Giggey, Harry Hale, and Jack Hamel.

Deciding Marine aviation was the place for me, I applied for flight training. In January I was transferred down here to sunny Florida, and I'm now attached to the Marine Aviation Det., Naval Air Basic Tr. Command, Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. This is quite the base. The climate and recreational facilities make it ideal.

I would love to hear from some of my old Norwich friends.

NEW ADDRESSES

Cutest Little Girl

From Eric W. Schmidt, '55
466 So. Ingalls
Lakewood, Colo.

Being out here in the "wild and wooley" west, one would hardly expect to meet any Norwich men. However, I visited with Bruce Frazer, '53, in Colorado Springs about a year ago. Barry Norton, '55, and Gordon Beadle, '56, are attending the University of Colorado in Boulder at the present time.

I'm presently employed as an industrial gas engineer with the Public Service Co. of Colorado. I married a Denver girl, Lakay Gottier, and we now have the cutest little girl anyone could ever hope for.

I really enjoyed hearing from the "old fort," and I hope the Records will keep coming.

At the rate General Harmon is building up Norwich, I'm sure I'd never know it if the opportunity to visit ever arises.

I'd love to hear from some of my many friends I left behind.

Navigator on Refueler

From Lt. John E. Hillman, '56
508th Air Refueling Sqdn.
Turner Air Force Base, Ga.

I have been receiving the Norwich Record since I left the university in 1953, and I appreciate it very much.

Since leaving school, I have completed aviation cadet training in Texas and am now serving in the Air Force. I am a navigator on a KB-29 refueler.

Leslie Stevens, '11

Aschaffenburg
Germany

Editor of the Record:

I have received news that my uncle, Leslie E. Stevens, class of 1911, passed away March 18 in Davao City, Philippine Islands.

He had written me that he was hoping he could attend the 45th anniversary reunion of his class in June.

Not knowing if you knew of his passing, I wanted to write and make sure, for he always held a very warm feeling for Norwich, and I am very proud that he was my uncle.

Richard A. Heath

A few years ago Mr. Stevens wrote a letter which outlined highlights of his interesting career. Excerpts follow:

In May, 1912, I left for the Philippines and served as a lieutenant for nearly three years in the Philippine Constabulary, a sort of military police organization.

In Dec., 1915, I was transferred to the Bureau of Public Works as assistant engineer, mostly on road construction. In 1916 I was promoted to district engineer and as such had charge of all engineering works in a large province of Mindanao. During this period I collaborated in an engineering way with the Philippine Constabulary in a ten-month campaign against Moro outlaws. This was to me an especially interesting period.

As I was at this time a lieutenant of Engineers in the Officers' Reserve Corps, U. S. Army, I resigned in October, 1917, and returned to the United States and was immediately assigned to duty in the Engineer Corps, U. S. Army. In France I was assigned to a construction battalion and promoted to the grade of captain.

On my return from France I worked for a while with Carl Strobell, '10, on surveying work in Rutland, Vermont. Then I took a construction job in Michigan, winding up in Chicago where I remained until May, 1922, when I returned to the Philippines in the employ of the Philippine Government. After completing my two-year contract, I joined an American company engaged in the export of Manila hemp and copra. I left this firm at the end of 1925 to take charge of a cocoanut and hemp plantation.

I remained on this plantation until Dec. 9, 1941. During this time I acquired land of my own and was doing well with it until the war came along. The day following Pearl Harbor, I gathered up some 50 Japanese, some of whom had been working for me, and turned them over to the Philippine Army.

At that time in Davao there were about three battalions of Philippine Infantry, under command of an American colonel and a few other American officers. I immediately offered my services. As they were badly in need of

Maynard Hawse, '20

From the Newport Express

Maynard McKinley Hawse of 910 West 41st Street, Los Angeles, Calif., died Mar. 8 at the California Lutheran Hospital in that city. He was born in Newport Mar. 4, 1897.

He attended elementary schools in Newport and Irasburg and was graduated from Orleans High School in 1916. He attended Norwich University in Northfield from 1916 to 1918. He left Norwich to enter the service in World War I. After the war he entered Dartmouth College with the class of 1921.

He worked for Larson and Wells, architects and engineers, as draftsman for a number of years. In 1945 he went to Bridgeport, Conn., to work for Chance Vought Division of United Aircraft. In 1947 he was transferred to San Diego, Calif. In Seattle, Wash., he was employed by Douglas Aircraft and was transferred to their plant in Los Angeles where he had been employed since 1950.

He leaves his widow, Edna Greenlaw Hawse of Los Angeles; and a sister, Mrs. Veda Aiken of Thompsonville, Conn.

an engineer officer, the colonel asked me to serve on his staff as such.

We started to throw up such defenses as were possible. On December 20, 1941, the Japs made their landing. Our armament consisted of two fifty-calibre and about 15 thirty-calibre machine guns, a few automatic rifles and the balance old 1917 Lee Enfield rifles in the hands of not well trained troops. We had no air support and no tanks. The Jap landing force consisted of about 40 transports and war vessels, including one battleship and one aircraft carrier.

You can imagine that we had not much chance against such a force, although the fighting lasted from 4 A. M. until early afternoon when the Japs landed a number of tanks, against which we had no defense. All of our troops were withdrawn from the city into the surrounding hills, and I remained behind to blow up the large steel bridge across the river.

After doing this job, the few men and myself pulled out for the hills. For one reason or another we failed to connect up with the other troops. On December 27 we ran into a company of Japanese soldiers who surrounded us and opened fire. One of my companions was killed and two were wounded, after which we surrendered.

As I had no papers to show my connection with the Army and was in civilian clothes, I was interned as a civilian, narrowly missing execution. In fact, it was through the intercession of a former Japanese civilian friend that I was not executed. I remained in the Davao Internment Camp for two years, then was taken to Manila and lastly to Los Banos. Here I was released by the American Army in one of the best planned and executed operations of the war. Even the movies could not have done as well for split-second timing.

CLUB MEETINGS

Boston

The Norwich Club of Boston will hold its annual dinner meeting at the University Club, 40 Trinity Place, Boston, Friday, May 11. Cocktails at 6, dinner at 7 P. M. This will be the last scheduled meeting of our regular 1955-56 club season during which officers will be elected for the 1956-57 season.

The guest speaker will be General Harmon, president of our Alma Mater.

Inasmuch as there are many Norwich men in and around this club area, President Harmon has expressed a very sincere desire for a large attendance. It will provide him with an opportunity to offer you a detailed report of more progress "on the Hill" and some of his future plans, all of which will be very interesting and pleasing. Likewise, it will provide you with an opportunity to show your confidence in his demonstrated capable leadership and to indicate appreciation of his untiring efforts and outstanding accomplishments.

As a suggestion, the Executive Committee thinks a big attendance can be assured to greet our president if a group in every class will accept the challenge to phone as many members as possible. But, in addition, you should strongly urge your friends in other classes to join you for this climax of the season. The response should be pleasing and should give you, as well as General Harmon, considerable satisfaction.

President Harmon has also stated that he would like to have present as many fathers of cadets as possible, along with fathers with sons who are interested in becoming cadets. So, your efforts in this matter will be appreciated.

It is requested that you mail your reservation cards without delay. Prompt action is of great assistance to the Executive Committee. However, for anyone who may find a last-minute reservation necessary, call Mrs. Virginia Lincoln, Copley 6-5600. Give your name, class, and choice of fish or meat.

Will see you at the annual dinner meeting May 11. Your presence may mean more to you and to President Harmon than you realize.

Southern Connecticut

The seventh annual outing of the Norwich Club of Southern Connecticut will be held the Saturday after Commencement as usual and at Herb Harrington's camp in Huntington as usual. This year the date is June 16.

Lunch will start about 11 and end only after the hamburgers and chowder are all gone. There will be outdoor sports. (The Farmer's Almanac promises fair weather.) Indoor sports will be held if it should rain. There will be prizes for either or both.

Dinner will be served at about 5:30 p. m., and there will be beer and soda all day.

Let a Sou-Conn know if you are going, and he will tell you how to get there. General Harmon plans to come.

At a meeting held Apr. 3 at the University Club in Bridgeport, General Harmon was our speaker. Introduced by Hugh Haskett, President Harmon gave us his "State of the Nation" annual address, going into more detail and interjecting many more personal comments than it is possible for him to put into his "President's Column" in the Record. It is always so much more emphatic and interesting to hear of the affairs on the Hill than to read them in the Record. After the meeting General Harmon was given a copy of the Sou-Conn Special Resolution of April, 1952, and brought up to date on the club's revised thought on this important subject.

President Ray Smith appointed a Nominating Committee composed of Phil Marsilius, Earle Livermore, and Bob Forger. He also appointed the Outing Committee—Hugh Haskett, Earle Livermore, John Bonney, Hobie Smith, Jim Slingo, Sr., Herb Harrington, and Earle Beebe. These two committees are to meet at Walt Upham's home on May 17.

Phil Marsilius brought us up to date on the status of the Scholarship Fund.

The recipient for next year has not yet been selected but will be announced at our outing. Walt Upham said he had collected $95 of the 1956 quota, and he appealed for payment of the balance of $155 as soon as possible.

The attendance list:

Alumni—Beebe '14, Livermore '15, Harmon '16, Upham '17, Harrington '21, Smith '26, Schiller '30, Duncan '32, Haskett '42, Marsilius '43, Bonney '44, Smith '44 and father, Forger '49, Tomko '55, Potter '55 and father.

Cadets—Colacurcio '57 and father, Gudrian '57, Newman '57 and father, Rice '57, Ferns '58 and father, Fischer '58 and father, father of Cadet Priestley '58 and his guest.

The Connecticut Games

Unable to practice outdoors because of a backward spring, the Norwich baseball players found themselves greatly handicapped when they opened their season in Connecticut by losing to Trinity Apr. 13 and then to Coast Guard the next day in a double header. Good Norwich pitching was hurt by a plethora of errors.

Five Meets for Track Team This Season

A schedule of five meets has been arranged for Norwich's 1956 track season.

The card opened against Colby at Waterville Apr. 21, followed by Middlebury at Northfield Apr. 25. Other matches include Rensselaer at Troy May 2, Vermont at Northfield May 8, and the Vermont state meet at Burlington May 26.

Norwich Skier Wins Eastern Slalom Title

By Pat Harty
Boston Globe ski writer

Gary Vaughn, 20-year-old Norwich University sophomore from Old Forge, N. Y., celebrated his recent advance to Class A as a racer by winning the Eastern Giant Slalom championship on Sugarloaf Mountain at Kingfield, Me., Apr. 8 as the Olympic team favorites all had trouble.

Brooks Dodge, Olympian from Pinkham Notch, N. H., pre-race favorite and called America's greatest ski racer, slipped just a few inches off his chosen line in the narrow and most difficult part of the course.

His speed was so great it carried him past four flags before he could grind to a halt. He was so far down the course it was senseless to go back, and he stood disqualified for the missed gates.

Marvin Moriarty of the Olympic team and Stowe, Vt., was injured as he took a wicked spill and bruised his hip badly.

Sole member of the overseas squad to keep his feet, and finish, was Les Streeter of Northfield, Vt., who missed second place by only three tenths of one second.

Olympic team coach Bobo Sheehan took that spot, only two-tenths behind the winner.

Vaughn is not a newcomer to top racing, though he has never won a big time title meet before. He was injured a year ago and suffered a back injury earlier this year. He only regained his former condition in the past two weeks.

His win at Sugarloaf, with that of his fellow collegian, Redmond Wilcox, who took the Eastern downhill title, shows that Norwich is loaded with talent for next year.

The 50-gate course was a tough one. It started with a steep schuss of about 100 yards to a hairpin set right in the middle of the run. From there to the link connecting with the T-bar slopes, it was fair going, but in that link is where Dodge came to grief.

A blind gate was followed by two more closed or blind gates just below it, and two were set right on top of a tremendous bump with another pair right under it. That was course-setter Roger Peabody's idea of how to keep them on a line through a rock-strewn section.

Hockey Players Rate Well in Eastern Ranks

Bruce Gillies, Norwich junior who is captain-elect of next winter's Cadet hockey team, was picked as the second best goal tender in the East's small college ranks, according to information sent to Bob Priestley, Maroon coach.

In naming an All-East small college squad, coaches of the teams placed the Norwich goalie next to their top selection, Harold Gotoff of Amherst. Gillies is a resident of Bath, Me. He measures six feet, three inches, and he weighs 180 pounds.

The coaches also named another Norwich player, senior Roland Dutil of Lewiston, Me., for second place among the East's small-college defense-men. He ranked next to first-choice Edward Hickey of Army.

Two other Cadet skaters also placed well—Roger Paquette of Lewiston, a senior, fifth among the leading forwards, and Fred Haynes of Waltham, Mass., a sophomore, sixth in the group of high ranking defense-men.

Honorable mention as a forward went to Charles McLaughlin of Winchester, Mass., a Norwich senior. He and Paquette were co-captains of Norwich hockey the past season. The Cadets finished their campaign with a 6-6 record.

Bridgeport, St. Lawrence Are New 1956 Football Opponents

An eight-game football schedule for 1956 has been arranged by Joseph F. Garrity, director of athletics.

The card includes two new opponents, Bridgeport and St. Lawrence, who replace New Haven and Brooklyn.

The Cadets will travel to Bridgeport for their opening game on Sept. 22, and then they will make three home appearances against Bates, St. Lawrence, and Coast Guard.

Besides Bates and Coast Guard, opponents retained on the Norwich grid list are Upsala, Vermont, Middlebury, and Worcester Tech.

The schedule follows:

Sept. 22, Bridgeport at Bridgeport; 29, Bates at Northfield.

Oct. 6, St. Lawrence at Northfield; 13, Coast Guard at Northfield; 20, Upsala at East Orange; 27, Vermont at Northfield.

Nov. 3, Middlebury at Middlebury; 10, Worcester Tech at Worcester.

Goalie Bruce Gillies Elected Hockey Captain

Bruce Gillies of Bath, Me., has been elected captain of next winter's Norwich hockey team. He is a six-foot-three goal tender.

Among 14 players awarded letters, five are graduating seniors. This group includes co-captains Charles McLaughlin and Roger Paquette, who led the Cadets to a 6-6 record under the coaching of Bob Priestley. The latter thus was able to boost his five-year mark at Norwich to 49-21-1.

Names of the letter winners follow:

Seniors—Roland Dutil, Lewiston, Me.; Charles McLaughlin, Winchester, Mass.; Richard Moriarty, Winchester, Mass.; Roger Paquette, Lewiston, Me.; Arthur Robert, Pascoag, R. I.

Juniors—Conrad Dutcher, Rome, N.

Y.; Bruce Gillies, Bath, Me.; John Inman, Melrose, Mass.

Sophomores—Robert Blandy, Reading, Mass.; Albert Fournier, Lewiston, Me.; Fred Haynes, Waltham, Mass.; Robert McLeod, Weston, Mass.

Freshmen—David MacInnis, Melrose, Mass.; Arthur Norton, Brookline, Mass.
